ARMER RELIEF BILL IS VETOED

ident's Action Is Followed Almost Immediately by Senate Vote to Disregard Veto

ARED ITS RESULTS

itional Credit Burdens, President Wilson Insists Would Be Imposed by Proposed Law

shington, Jan. 3. — Veto by dent Wilson today of the farmer's bill to revive the war finance oration was followed almost imately by a vote of 33 to 5 in the to make the bill a law despite disapproval. The house will up the measure tomorrow and ions were general that it would ide the senate action and thus the bill on the statute books.

esident Wilson, in a lengthy veto sage, declared he withheld his approval of the bill because the war ce corporation was a war credit ncy, not desirable or needed in e times. He said that it would ct no financial influence on the ket, would raise false hopes ng the very people that would exmost and would be hurtful to natural and orderly processes of ess and finance."

Additional Credit Burdens.

he legislation, the President also would result in additional credit ens and the government, he conded, should not "be called upon ner to finance private business at ic expense."

eferring to widespread demand for lishment of war agencies and reval of governmental influence from ness, the President said he had pathy with this view" and added "the nation should resume its l business methods."

pon reading of the veto message he senate, Senator Underwood of ama, Democratic leader, urged its ediate consideration for which nimous consent was secured by tor Gronna of the agricultural mittee, which reported the bill. tor Underwood followed with the address made, declaring that ncial distress now was greater than ng the war and that he felt confit of wise administration of the posed law that would cause "no ue drain on the treasury."

n the senate roll call, 29 Democrats e joined by 24 Republicans in overing the veto.

upporting the President's position e two Democrats, Senators Berry Rhode Island and Thomas of Colo, and three Republicans, Elkins Sutherland, of West Virginia, and es, of New Hampshire. Senators ss, Democrat, Virginia, and Edge, ublican, New Jersey, voted against rriding the veto, but withdrew their es on account of having pairs. Sen- Penrose of Pennsylvania, a Reican leader, was paired but anced that he would have voted to tain the veto.

he President's message also was d in the house. Representative dell of Wyoming, Republican leadannounced later that it would be en up tomorrow at the opening of house, but without any definite argements for a vote. Advocates of bill, however, expressed confidence the house also would vote to enthe bill despite the veto. The se passed the bill by a vote of 212 61, or much more than the necesy two-thirds majority. Many of negative votes were cast by Reicans.

Returned Without Signature.

President Wilson's message vetoing resolution follows:

To the senate of the United States:

I am returning without my signae S. J. Res. 212, 'joint resolution ending the war finance corporation take certain action for the relief the present depression in the agriural sections of the country, and for er purposes.'

This joint resolution directs the real of the activities of the war nce corporation. This corporation a governmental agency. Its capital k is owned entirely by the United es. It was created during hostilifor war purposes. The temporary ers which it is now proposed to ve were conferred in March, 1919, assist if necessary in the financing exports. The general powers of corporation expire six months afthe termination of the war, and special powers with respect to the ancing of exports expire one year er the termination of the war. ile we are technically still in a state war, it unquestionably was presumwhen this added power was granted that peace would have been formally proclaimed before this time and at the limitation of one year would be entered.

In May, 1920, in view of the fact at export trade had not been interpted but had greatly expanded, and at exports were being privately anced in large volumes, the war nance corporation, at the request of e secretary of the treasury and with approval, suspended the making of nances.

Hints at "Snap" Action.

This resolution was passed by the ngress apparently in view of the reit sudden and considerable fall in ces, especially of agricultural comdities, with the thought that some European countries to which certain products were customarily shipped before the war might again be enabled to resume their importation and that larger masses of domestic exports to European countries generally might be stimulated, with the resulting enhancement of domestic prices. I am in full sympathy with every sound proposal to promote foreign trade along sound business lines. I am not convinced that the method proposed is wise, that the benefits, if any, would offset the evils which would result or that the same or larger advantages cannot be secured without resort to government intervention. On the contrary, I apprehend that the resumption of the corporation's activities at this time would exert no beneficial influence on the situation in which improvement is sought, would raise false hopes among the very people who would expect most, and would be hurtfull to the natural and orderly processes of business and finance. Large government credits were extended during the war to certain European governments associated with us in the struggle. These ceased several months after the armistice, except for commitments already made. They should not now be resumed, either directly or indirectly. The recent Brussels conference, composed of experts from many European countries and from other nations, itself expressed the opinion that further credits should not be accorded directly by governments. I do not believe that they should be accorded indirectly.

"Exports of domestic products have not decline since the armistice. On the contrary, they have greatly increased. From an aggregate value before the war of less than 2½ billions of dollars, and of about six billions the last year of hostilities, they rose in the calendar year 1919 to more than $7,900,000,000, and this figure will probably be exceeded for the last calendar year. For the first 11 months of last calendar year we exported more than 7½ billion dollars worth of domestic merchandise. These have been largely privately financed. The difficulty in the way of still larger exports does not seem to lie so much in the lack of financial ability here as in Europe's lack of means to make payment. Her productive energies and the services which she renders have not yet reached a point where they balance the value of commodities taken from this nation, and her ability to furnish for additional exports securities which business men would feel justified in taking is restricted. The experts of the Brussels conference reported that 'one of the chief obstacles to the granting of credits is the absence in borrowing countries of sufficient securities for ultimate repayment.' Until this obstacle is removed, it is difficult to see how materially larger exports to Europe are to be made, even if exporters, aided or unaided by government finance, stand ready to do their part.

Effect of Resumption.

"It is highly probable that the most immediate and conspicuous effect of the resumption of the corporation's activities would be an effort on the part of exporters to shift the financing of their operations from ordinary commercial channels to the government. This would be unfortunate. It would continue the government as an active factor in ordinary business operations. If activities of any considerable magnitude resulted they would necessitate the imposition of additional taxes or further borrowing, either through the war finance corporation or by the treasury. In either case new burdens would be laid upon the people. Further borrowing would in all likelihood tap the very sources which might otherwise be available for private operations or which the treasury is now compelled to reach to meet current obligations of the government. There is no question that the borrowing of the government should be limited to the minimum requirements, and that the government should not be called upon further to finance private business at public expense. To the extent that Europe is able to furnish additional securities, private financial institutions here will doubtless find means of giving the necessary accommodation. The way has been opened for added legitimate efforts to promote foreign trade. Financial agencies in aid of exports, privately financed, have already been planned to operate under the act approved Dec. 24, 1919, authorizing the organization of banking corporations to do foreign banking business. One corporation has been organized in the south and a second of larger scope is in course of development. These agencies may be expected to act as promptly and is liberally and helpfully as sound business conditions will permit. Through reliance of such enterprises, rather than through government intervention, may we expect to secure a return to stable business relations. For many months there has been a demand that war agencies should be abolished and that there should be less government interference with business.

President Wilson's Opinion.

"I have sympathized with this view, and believe that it is applicable to foreign trade as well as to domestic business. I am of the opinion that now, more than two years after the armistice, the nation should resume its usual business methods and return to its reliance on the initiative, intelligence and ability of its business leaders and financial institutions.

"We shall not witness an immediate satisfactory adjustment of domestic and international trade relations. The burdens of war are not lifted when the fighting ceases. One sad thing about war is that it leaves behind it a legacy of economic ills and of suffering from which there is no escape. Conditions, however, are improving both here and abroad. The difficulties with which we are now confronted are of small consequence in comparison with those which we have met and overcome. Fuller restoration awaits the adoption of constructive measures of large consequence; the secure establishment of a just peace in the world; the cessation of fighting everywhere; the more complete resumption in Europe of the normal courses of industry, the return of her people to sounder fiscal and banking policies, and the breaking down within her borders of harmful restrictions.

HURRY ESCORT TO AERONAUTS

Scant Details of Perilous Flight Are Available, as Only One Message Has Been Received

FARTHEST NORTH YET

No Long Distance or Time Record, However, Was Established by the Naval Fliers

Cochrane, Ont., Jan. 3. — Canadian mounted police stationed at Haileybury announced tonight that a trained messenger would be sent to meet and escort the three American naval balloonists now making their way via dog sleds to an Ontario railroad after being missing for nearly three weeks. The officers, who found refuge at Moose Factory on James bay, after being lost in the Canadian woods for four days, are believed to be headed for either Mattice or Cochrane on the Canadian National Transcontinental railway.

Barring unfavorable weather conditions, the three men, who are accompanied by experienced guides, should reach the railhead either Saturday or Sunday. Their progress is necessarily slow because of the frozen and snow-swept trails and the cold weather which now registers 30 degrees below zero in that region.

With the exception of the message which they sent by Indian runners to Mattice, from where it was telegraphed to the Rockaway, N. Y., naval air station, no details of their flight or rescue are known here.

While their flight of approximately 800 miles was not a long distance or time record, the aviators probably reached a point farther north than ever before attained by a free air balloon. They left the Rockaway air station at 12:15 p. m., December 13, and landed at 2 p. m., the next day. Knowing that the prevailing winds would carry them over the mountainous districts of northern New York, the aviators probably purposely kept their craft at a high altitude, especially at night. When dawn broke they presumably found themselves over the dense Canadian woods and decided to keep going until they could find an open space and land in safety.

CARDINAL GIBBONS BACK IN HIS HOME

Prelate Endures Fatigue of 35-Mile Motor Trip Better Than Physicians Had Anticipated

Baltimore, Jan. 3. — For the first time since December 12, when he was stricken after a service in St. Joseph's church, Cardinal Gibbons slept tonight in the plain little room in his residence where he has lived and worked for many years. He was removed to his home today by automobile from the Robert T. Shriver home in Union Mills. Apparently he suffered very slightly from the fatigue of the journey.

The windows of the Cardinal's room were dark tonight and it was reported by members of his household that he was sleeping as peacefully as a child. In his heart, the priest of the venerable prelate's official family said, was a feeling of great gladness to be home again.

Although advantage had been taken of an unusually favorable turn in his illness, the physicians were somewhat uneasy as to the outcome. Due to the extreme weakness induced even in a robust man by a long sojourn in bed, they would not have been surprised if a temporary setback had resulted from the 35-mile trip. Only the ordinary reaction of slight fatigue occurred.

Dr. O'Donovan and Dr. Wetzell believe that the easing of the Cardinal's anxiety to be back in the home atmosphere that has grown dear to him will have a beneficial effect on his health.

ROCHESTER FACTORIES TAKE BACK EMPLOYES

Rochester, Jan. 3. — With the volume of orders from the spring trade steadily growing larger, Rochester clothing and shoe factories, employing together about 14,000 workers, are gradually taking back their normal force of employes. The president of the Rochester Clothier's exchange predicted today that within two weeks all the clothing factories would be running with a full force.

ANTI TRUST LAWS APPLY TO UNIONS

Engagement in Actual Combination or Conspiracy in Restraint of Trade Is Accountable

Washington, Jan. 3.—Labor unions or their members are accountable under the anti-trust laws where they depart from their "normal and legitimate objects and engage in an actual combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade," the supreme court held today in an opinion on which it divided, six to three.

The court reversed lower court decrees dismissing the applications of the Duplex Printing Press company of Battle Creek, Mich., for an injunction restraining Emil J. Deering and William Bramley, as business agents of the International association of Machinists from continuing a so-called secondary boycott. This was described by the court as a "combination," not merely to refrain from dealing with complainants or to advise or by peaceful means to persuade complainant customers to refrain (primary boycott) but to exercise coercive pressure upon such customers, actual and prospective, in order to cause them to withhold or withdraw patronage from complainant through fear of loss or damage to themselves should they deal with it."

Labor leaders of prominence decline to comment on the decision of the court which is the first to be given on what President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has described as "labor's bill of rights." At the headquarters of the International Association of Machinists, it was said that all the officers were out of town.

Immunity from prosecution was claimed for the agents of the union under section six of the Clayton act, which sets forth that the labor of a human being is not an article nor commodity of commerce." It was also contended during the course of the litigation, that, under section 20 of the same statute, the court was specifically restrained from granting injunctions such as that for which aplication was made.

ITALY KEEPS BACK IMMIGRANT HORDES

Offers Co-Operation With United States' Threatened Restriction For Ten Months

Washington, Jan. 3. — Ultimate solution of the immigration question through diplomatic agreement rather than through separate legislative action by various governments was forecast today at hearings on the senate immigration committee on the Johnson bill to impose a 10 months' restriction on immigration to the United States.

Senator Colt of Rhode Island, chairman of the committee, made public a letter from acting Secretary of State Davis announcing that the Italian government voluntarily has suspended the issuing of passports for the United States. The letter was presented to Secretary Davis by the Italian embassy and came as a surprise to the committee members. It read in part:

"The royal Italian government has suspended the issue of passports to subjects immigrating to the United States and will refrain from issuing such passports until informed of the class of immigrants desired in this country."

The offer to co-operate in the matter with the United States was received with gratification by the senators. Some expressed the belief that while it might be necessary to enact some immediate legislation to prohibit the flood of "Europeans" from pouring into the United States eventually the whole question would be solved by diplomatic agreement.

Chairman Colt said he hoped other nations would follow the course of the Italian government and obviate the necessity of continually legislating on this subject.

"All ready," he said, "there are indications that Czecho-Slovakia will enter into a diplomatic agreement with the United States with regard to regulating immigration. It is not improbable that other nations will do the same if the suggestion is made that it would be agreeable to this country."

NEUTRAL TOWARD SOCIALISTS

Assemblyman Machold, the Probable Speaker, Will Maintain "Hands Off" Policy if Chosen.

Albany, Jan. 3. — H. Edmund Machold, Republican, of Jefferson, who is expected to be elected as speaker of the assembly when it convenes Wednesday, stated today that if elected he would adopt a "hands off policy" in regard to the question of the advisability of attempting to unseat the two Socialist members of the lower house.

"I will exert no pressure either one way or the other on the question," he said. Assemblyman Machold said that he did not believe that the question would be one for the party caucus to discuss.

There appears to be much sentiment about the capitol that no move to oust the Socialist members of the legislature—two assemblymen and one senator—will be made this year

PACT IS SOUGHT IN NAVAL PLANS

Consideration of Borah Resolution Seeking Agreements With Great Britian and Japan, Undertaken

OTHERS SUGGESTED

Inclusion of France and Italy Is Suggested, But Is Opposed by Sponsor of Bill

Washington, Jan. 3.—The general subject of a reduction in world naval construction was taken up today by the senate foreign relations committee at executive hearings, which will be continued Wednesday and which may run for some weeks.

Specifically, the committee had before it the Borah resolution asking President Wilson to initiate negotiations with Great Britain and Japan, looking to a reduction of 50 percent in the naval building programs of those countries and the United States.

It was understood that considerable sentiment developed in the committee to include France and Italy in the negotiations, but this was opposed by Senator Borah, who was said to have argued that those countries would follow the lead of the United States, Great Britain and Japan and that if they became a party to the negotiations a reduction of armies as well as navies would enter into the discussion.

Great Britain, the senator was reported to have said, could be expected to urge reduction of the French army if she should consent to reducing her navy.

Admiral Coontz, chief of naval operations, and his aides were the only witnesses examined today. Committee members said others would be called but that there had been no intimation that Secretary Daniels would be invited to appear. While the committee was in session the naval secretary, in his daily conference with newspaper correspondents, reiterated his opposition to the Borah resolution and also took occasion to say that so far as he had been advised, President Wilson had taken no steps looking to a disarmament conference among the world powers as he had authority under the naval act of 1916.

Admiral Coontz, the senator said, opposed the Borah resolution or any other plan based on a percentage reduction in building, arguing that such a reduction would fail to bring about any equalization of naval power because of the different sides of the programs of the different nations.

The committee was told by the admiral that the American building program was the largest, and the Japanese second, but that even with the completion of the Japanese program, Japan's navy would have only about half the strength of the American navy. Geat Britain's building program is comparatively small, the senators were said to have been told, and unless it is increased before 1924, the American navy would about equal the British.

OPPOSE FEDERAL CANAL OPERATION

Superintendent of Public Works Walsh Characterizes Attempts as "Ridiculous"

Albany, Jan. 3. — "Early and forceful action" by the legislature in amending the railroad law "so as to compel the government to discontinue" operations on the New York barge canal was recommended by Superintendent of Public Works Edward S. Walsh in his annual report made public tonight. He characterized governmental canal operations in 1920 as a "ridiculous attempt to conduct a business enterprise" and "so replete was mismanagement, inefficiency and incompetency as to defy immagination."

Superintendent Walsh said that the government suffered a loss of $506,507 in its 1919 canal operations and predicted that the 1920 deficit would exceed that figure, stating that New York will have to shoulder one-third of the government loss, he said:

"The commercial interests of the state demand that the government withdraw from business on the New York canal and cease competing with citizens of the state in a field where the government has no moral right to continue."

Government barges are faulty in type and design and unsuited to the New York canal system, it was charged by the superintendent. He also claimed that "other incompetence and rank carelessness" of government employes placed the canal structure in constant jeopardy.

STUDENT WINS SUIT.

Lyons, Jan. 3.—The doctrine under which public authorities hitherto have been exempted from responsibility for damages resulting from the performance of their duties was upset here today by Supreme Court Justice Roiland W. Davis in denying a motion for non suit by school board and school superintendent of the town of Arcadia in the damage action brought against it by one of the pupils who had two fingers cut off in an unguarded buzz saw in the district school shop.

SWANN SEEKS FACTS TO SUPPORT CHARGES

Subpoenaes Senators Theodore D. Robinson and Assemblyman Steinburg to Prove Statements

New York, Jan. 3.—District Attorney Swann tonight obtained subpoenaes for State Senator Theodore Douglas Robinson and Assemblyman Joseph Steinberg, requiring them to appear before the grand jury next Friday, in connection with the announced intention to ask the legislature to investigate the city administration.

The two members of the legislature charged in their prepared statements that the city was "suffering from probably the worst and most corrupt administration in its history."

"I want them to go before the grand jury," Mr. Swann said, "and give the facts on which they base their allegations. I don't anticipate that either of them know anything about what they said. They've picked up the unverified rumors and have made direct allegations of corruption in the public service. I am going to bring them before the grand jury.

"We will call anybody who makes such charges, so we can learn whether the charges have any basis in fact. If there is crime anywhere in the public service, we want to find it. If there is anything brought up before the grand jury from these gentlemen or anyone else affecting this office I shall immediately ask the attorney general to take charge of it, so it cannot be claimed I am investigating my own office. In issuing the subpoenaes, all I am doing is asking them to give any information of any corruption by any public officials, high or low."

Albany, Jan. 3.—Nothing that Mr. Swann or anyone else may do can swerve me a hair's breadth from performing my duties as a legislator," Assemblyman Joseph Steinburg of New York said tonight when informed that District Attorney Swann has announced that he would summon him before the grand jury to give the facts on which he based recent charges against the New York city administration.

"This is amusing," commented Mr. Steinbug. "Does the honorable Mr. Swann think that the subpoenaeing of Senator Robinson and myself will sidetrack a real and thorough investigation of the Hylan-Tammany regime, from which the citizens have so long suffered? If he does, he is mistaken."

Senator Theodore Douglas Robinson, who with Assemblyman Steinburg, has announced he will endeavor to have a legislative investigation of the greater city's administartion, and who, also, according to District Attorney Swann, will be subpoenaed, could not be located here tonight.

ATTACKS ROOSEVELT PANAMA PURCHASE

Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, Alleges Acquisition Was Through a Band of Filibusters

Washington, Jan. 3. — President Roosevelt's action in connection with the acquisition of the Panama canal zone was attacked and defended today in the senate.

Urging ratification of the Columbian treaty involving payment of a $25,000,000 indemnity to Columbia for the partition of Panama, Senator Thomas, Democrat, of Colorado, charged that President Roosevelt "acquired the right of way for the canal from a band of filibusterers by bartering for it the honor of the nation."

The late former president was defended by Senator Kellogg, Republican, of Minnesota, who told the senate he could not sit in silence and listen to reflection on the character and statemanship of Theodore Roosevelt without "expressing myself."

"The Panama canal, its history, construction and success is an open book," said Senator Kellogg.

FIRE DESTROYS CAPITOL

West Virginia State House at Charleston, With Valuable Records and Files Is Razed By Flames.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 3. — The capitol building of West Virginia was destroyed by fire late today. One laborer was killed, a fireman injured seriously and several other fire fighters hurt when a section of roof, under which they were standing, caved in. The spectacular nature of the fire was enhanced when much ammunition stored on the third floor of the building exploded.

Within four hours after the fire was discovered, the capitol building containing the governor's office, state departments and "priceless records" was nothing but a mass of smoking ruins.

State officials made no attempt to estimate the loss.

The capitol building, erected in 1881, at a cost of more than $400,000, is believed to have been the only brick capitol in the United States. State officials today said that the building was valued at approximately $1,250,000.

CONFIRM DEVALERA REPORTS.

Dublin, Ireland, Jan. 3. — (By the Associated Press). — The reports that Eammon de Valera had landed in Ireland were definitely confirmed today

ADMITS SLAYING 'MONK' EASTMAN

Prohibition Enforcement Officer Surrenders and Confesses Shooting Soldier-Gangster

ALIBI SELF DEFENSE

Harry Bitzberger, Alleged Bank Robber, Makes Good His Escape From His Jail Cell

New York, Jan. 3. — The backwash from the high tide of New York's crime wave created more excitement in police department circles today than the few fresh outbreaks of violence in the last 24 hours.

The mystery which had enveloped the killing on the morning after Christmas of "Monk" Eastman, gangster soldier, was cleared up when Jeremiah Bohan, a prohibition enforcement agent, surrendered and, it is alleged, admitted shooting the "Monk," who had his citizenship rights returned after valiant war service.

Bohan described the killing as taking place after a drinking party at the Blue Beard cafe, following threats on his life and "vile language" by Eastman, police said.

Scores of Policemen on Charges.

A successful escape from an iron barred jail cell provided another sensation for the authorities. Harry Bitzbreger, who had been arrested in connection with the holding up and robbing of the First National bank of Mill Town, N. J., on December 29, jumped to freedom after filing and sawing his way out of his cell window. Nineteen other prisoners tried to follow him, but a lone guard stopped them with a display of his revolver.

While 71 policemen were facing charges of delinquency in performance of duty at Brooklyn headquarters, another bluecoat labored through as busy a day as he could remember. Patrolman Kirwan before noon had emptied his six shooter twice and arrested single handed five alleged holdup men.

Mrs. Ellen A. O'Grady, who recently created a sensation by resigning as fifth deputy police commissioner after criticising conduct of the department, today was reinstated as a probation officer by Chief Magistrate William McAdoo. Mrs. O'Grady had been granted a leave of absence in 1918, when she became commissioner.

Absolves Others in Party.

In statements said to have been made tonight to Assistant District Attorneys Hennis and Joyce, Bohan absolved other members of his party in the Blue Beard cafe of blame for the shooting.

The party, he is alleged to have said, was on the verge of battle numerous times, with Eastman being "in the thick" of every argument.

When everyone had "his fill" Bohan said he suggested they make a "pot" for the waiter. Eastman objected to this, he added, saying he thought the tips should go to another employe in the place. The latter had been placed on his job by "Monk," he asserted, and Eastman wanted him to have "a good night." When the party finally decided with Bohan and left the cafe, the revenue agent said Eastman grabbed him by the arm and said: "You've been a rat ever since you got this prohibition job."

At this juncture, Bohan declared he thought Eastman meant trouble and he began firing. The crowd scattered. When the "Monk" dropped, Bohan said he jumped on the running board of a passing taxicab and told the driver to "keep going."

Plans Surety Company Probe.

Charged with a jewelry holdup on December 14, three men were held in $50,000 bail each in Harlem court today, after pleading not guilty. The trio was charged with entering the store of a Madison avenue jeweler and, after holding the owner at bay with the revolvers, escaped with jewelry valued at $9,000. They were arrested New Year's day.

An investigation of the activities of surety companies furnishing bail bonds to crooks will begin tomorrow, District Attorney Swann announced tonight.

"We propose to do all that is possible" he said, "to make it difficult for the criminals who are guilty of the more serious crimes to be free so that they can commit other crimes while out on bail."

"A modern crook not only uses auto trucks, but uses surety company bonds as a means of securing liberty so that he can continue his depredations on society."

PLEADS FOR ECONOMY IN GOVERNMENT LIFE

Washington, Jan. 3. — Pleading for economy in government expenditures, Representative Mann, Republican, Illinois, declared today in the house that the one thing "made President Wilson the most hated man in the United States" was the gross wastefulness of the present administration.

"The people north and south were sore over the orgy of extravagance," said he. "If this side of the house (Republican) is wise, it will heed the warning. Unless the new president helps to run an economical administration he will never be returned to the White House."

MRS. VALERA KEEPS HUSBAND'S SECRET

Wife of "Ireland's President" Refuses to Divulge His Whereabouts to Newspapermen

Dublin, Jan. 3. — Mrs. DeValera refuses to say whether her husband, Eamonn de Valera, whose whereabouts is a matter of mystery, is in Ireland. Questioned by The Associated Press today, she merely smiled and shook her head.

"I agreed when I left New York," she explained, "not to say anything to newspaper men."

Asked if it was true that de Valera had sent her a post card announcing his arrival, she replied:

"I would rather not answer that question."

Dublin Castle today continued to deny all knowledge of De Valera. The view of the officials seems to be that if he is really here he has come for the purpose of unraveling Ireland's troubles, not to aid the campaign of the Sinn Fein militants. It is admitted that though he may have lost some trusties in consequence of his long stay in the United States, he still wields great power over the Irish people.

TRANSPORT UNIONS MAY UNITE FORCES

Movement in England Includes Workers of All Branches Except Those Engaged in Railroading

London, Jan. 3. — Unanimous support of a project to amalgamate all the different unions of transport workers, excepting the railway men into one huge organization, was voted in a resolution, adopted today at a meeting in which all section of transport workers in London were represented. Several thousand were present. Under the plan the resources of the unions would be pooled and a central office staff created. Harry Gosling, a leader of the workers, presiding, said it was ridiculous that the men should be divided into small unions when the employers were banded into a single great organization.

Ernest Devins, of the Dock Workers' union, said the estimated membership of the new amalgamation would be half a million.

The scheme unites dock workers, vehicle workers, stevedores and others, but does not include the railway men.

MORE GAINS RESULT IN STOCK DEALINGS

Atlantic Gulf, Which Falls Seven Points, Is Only Exception Practically, to Rising List

New York, Jan. 3.—The year on the stock exchange began with a tentative extension of last week's rally, followed by irregular heaviness at midday and a vigorous recoil in the last hour, with many substantial gains at the active close.

Almost the sole exception was Atlantic Gulf, which fell seven points to the new low record of 69, recovering only the smallest fraction. Oils, steels, coppers, tobaccos and motor specialties led the rebound, together with General Asphalt, which overshadowed the list at a net gain of seven and one-half points.

Forecast of the new year were partly hopeful, but in responsible quarters there was no effort to minimize the belief that further economic readjustments must inevitably precede a clearing of the financial skies.

Adverse happenings over the holiday recess included the announcement of more bank failures and dividend suspensions, an increase of unemployment, reduced exports and the further decline of railway tonnage from western to eastern points.

President Wilson's veto of the war finance resolution, promptly followed by its adoption by the senate, was in keeping with expectations in high financial circles and included no influence in the securities market, though probably helping to stabilize quotations in grains and cottons.

The money market was almost stagnant, demand loans holding firm at seven percent. Release of January interest and dividend payment was without visible effect and failed to exert more than a casual investment inquiry.

Foreign exchange was very mixed. Sterling improving, while French, Spanish and Greek remittances weakened. Material accessions to last year's heavy gold imports were announced.

Bonds were dull, but firm in the main, most Liberty issues making substantial advances. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Stored Foods

At certain seasons of the year, nature mothers us in generous lavishness; at other seasons she treats us as outcasts.

One great service rendered by Swift & Company to the consumer is in taking some of the surplus of nature's plenty and storing it against the season of non-production. This is a service based upon sound common sense and meets a definite economic need.

This enables you to obtain all the year round some foods which otherwise would be so abundant in certain months that the entire supply could not be used, and so scarce at other times that prices would be prohibitive.

Swift & Company has equipped its plants and branch houses with refrigerating plants, and has a sufficient number of refrigerator cars to carry a supply of meat foods to its customers. Space in public cold storage warehouses also is used by us to carry perishables until they are needed.

We store only enough meat, butter, poultry, eggs, and cheese to supply our customers during the period of scarcity and not to speculate on rising prices. Our storage profits during the last eight years have averaged about one cent a dozen on eggs, and less than a cent a pound on butter and poultry.

Storage of food is a world necessity and we regard our part in this as an important factor in our service in supplying the nation with wholesome food.

A PHOTOPLAY

Featuring

ALMA RUBENS

The sordid clatter of the New York Ghetto. A little lad there, hugging an old violin. A mother, her soul aflame, watching, giving, dreaming, as the hard years pass. A radiant girl, waiting.

At last, fame! Wealth! The applause of countless, crowding thousands for "the master of them all." One night, a gala free concert to his own of the great East Side.

"Humoresque!" they cried. And he played it in farewell—played it with breaking heart,—then smiling, flung his career and his wondrous art away.

Some called him "Fool!" Not all. You'll know why when you see the end.

Clarke, assistant superintendent, Miss Mabel Beadle; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. E. F. An offering was taken for the Near East relief at the close of the Christmas exercises, at which time $25 was raised and since then enough more has been handed in and through the generosity of one member of the Union Sunday school they have been able to make a very liberal contribution to the Near East relief fund, $40 having been forwarded.

WELL ATTENDED RECEPTION.

Many Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs Attend 55th Anniversary.

Hobart, January 3. — A reception was held this afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal pasonage in honor of the 55th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Burroughs. There were about 50 guests in attendance including besides residents of Hobart a goodly number from Stamford and other towns in the vicinity. The house was handsomely decorated with cut flowers for the occasion, and the venerable couple received heartfelt congratulations and besh wishes for many more years of happy wedded life. Many congratulations were also received by telephone.

Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs, who for more than 20 years had resided in this village, are lifelong residents of this vicinity, their earlier home being on Roses Brook, near South Kortright. A substantial purse was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs by their many friends.

M'CRACKENS ARE SURPRISED.

Mr. and Mrs. "R. J." Celebrate Thirtieth Anniversary of Marriage.

Hobart, January 3. — Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. McCracken, who reside on the McCracken homestead on the Bettas Brook road, were pleasantly surprised by about 40 of their friends and neighbors last Friday night, the occasion being their thirtieth wedding anniversary. The event was planned by their daughter, Mrs. A. C. Hendry of Oneonta, and came as a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. McCracken. The visitors brought along much entertainment paraphernalia, including lots of good will—and also lots of "eats," and the night passed all too quickly with social chat, games and music. The refreshments were as good as they were plentiful, and the new year was welcomed in a very enjoyable manner.

During the evening, Mr. and Mrs. McCracken were presented with a substantial purse of money as a token of the good will and esteem in which they are held by their friends and they responded by thanking the company and voicing their appreciation of the good feeling that has always existed between them. Mr. and Mrs. McCracken have made their home on the homestead ever since their marriage and are held in high esteem by all who know them. Their many friends will join with those who were present Friday night in wishing them many more years of wedded happiness.

Guests were present at the party from Oneonta, Delhi, Davenport, Walton and other nearby towns. The celebration ended in the early hours of January 1st, after a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take OliveTablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.

The work of [illegible] within [illegible] of Justice Walter [illegible] of Smith and Justice Kiley for the [illegible] division [illegible] has much [illegible] and the designation of Justice Davis leaves just one half of the justices of the district for trial [illegible] in the counties. If therefore there is delay in the courts, either in trial or in the rendering of decisions, the blame should not be on the shoulders of men who are doing double work already.

Death took a toll of 1,251 lives in New York state last year, due to drivers of autos or to reckless pedestrians upon the highways. Five years ago the death roll for twelve months was 609 by auto accidents. Now it is more than doubled. True the number of cars is greater, but skill and care in operation should have operated to cut down the list instead of increasing it. The frequently urged proposition that every citizen driving a car must have a chauffeur's license may in the end become necessary if there is to be a slackening of slaughter.

"A scrap of paper," von Bethmann Hollweg called the treaty guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium six years ago. And now the Imperial Chancellor himself is "scrapped," with his empire, while the treaty, after millions of lives have been sacrificed, still remains. There is after all scarcely anything as imperishable as a scrap of paper provided it has written upon it some enduring principles of liberty and justice.

Thinking upon which one is led to mediation some of the imperishable things—the ten commandments, Magna Charter and the constitution of the United states—sacred things joined with secular it is admitted, but alike enduring because they are based on fundamental principles of humanity. But as for the wicked things, one by contrast need but quote the psalm, whether of David or of another. "They shall perish, but thou shalt endure [illegible] for thou are the same and thy years shall have no end.

In so far as the outlined plans of Governor Miller have to do with retrenchment in state expenditures the public will be with him, no matter how the professional politicians feel. There has been a steady increase in bureaus, divisions and departments, of government, national and state, and so far as the latter is concerned taxpaying citizens have long waited for an administration which would stand up squarely to its pledges to reduce expenses. It is known to pretty much everybody and conceded even in office-holders themselves, who in general are willing to have departments cut except their own, that there are more employes than are necessary, and that office in departments is too often mere compensation for political services.

That Schoharie Railroad.

In the days when Chauncey M. Depew was president of the New York Central and used to run up to Albany regularly, he told a story of the president of a small, obscure road, who sent him an annual pass and wanted a reciprocal favor. He was informed that such an exchange was hardly fair, whereupon he retorted that while his tracks were not so long as the Central's, they were just as wide. He got his pass in the next mail. Speaking of small roads, there is the Middleburgh and Schoharie, 11 miles long, whose train service is operated by three employes [illegible]—a conductor, an engineer and a fireman. The engineer suddenly quit on New Year's day and the 7:35 a. m. train had to be held three hours until a man was found who knew how to run the engine. Word comes over the wire of another railroad which has been getting along with a single locomotive. That broke down and the road wants a loan to [illegible] a good [illegible] and [illegible]—[Albany Journal.

It's an Uphill Pull for Polish Boys

Bare feet and tattered clothes, little to eat and less to wear, such is the fate of thousands of children in central and eastern Europe. These boys in Poland are only a sample of the 3,500,000 destitute youngsters that the European Relief Council plans to help through the cold days of the coming winter. To that end eight great organizations in America have merged to form the Council, the chairman of which is Herbert Hoover. Under his leadership the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. have decided to co-operate jointly to raise $33,000,000 to help the European children over the hill.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Unsympathetic.

The small-salaried man is an obstinate, pig-headed, unreasonable, selfish fellow. He simply refuses to go into a spasm of grief over the falling prices.—[Charleston News-Courier.

Talking Shop.

There are so many kinds of "shops" nowadays that it is necessary to define ones terms. There is the open shop, the open union shop, the open non-union shop, the closed shop, the closed union shop, the closed non-union shop, the wide-open shop, the shut-tight shop, the half-and-half shop, and pretty soon there won't be any shop at all.—[Springfield Republican.

Nor Advertising.

So little is heard of Belgium these days it may signify that the Belgians have no political geniuses who have found a better way to restore prosperity than by working.—[Dallas News.

France and Aviation.

France, we are told, is planning to lead the world in aviation. We shall not be surprised if she does so, because as a matter of fact she has hitherto pretty generally done so since the time of th Montgolfiers. In the later development of flight, it is true, Langley and the Wrights won immortal fame. But even Wilber Wright went to France to conduct his most important experiments. As for aeroplane achievements in war, all the world must stand at salute before the name of Guynemer.—[Harvey's Weekly.

Good Thing About Railroads.

One of the good things which has come about under the return of railroad management to the private owners is that more service is being secured for the freight cars both as to the load and the average mileage. The accumulation of loaded but unremoved cars was reduced from 163,237 on March 1, to 21,091 on December 1. Another good feature is that 150,000 box cars were sent from the East to the West for the movement of farm products. Also during this time the railroads have spent about $500,000 in improving tracks, bridges, cars and locomotives.—[Exchange.

Cabinet Makers.

The unofficial cabinet makers are very busy these days, and in a sense one man's guess is as good as another's and prophecy is a universal [illegible]. A slate which a good many put faith in reads thus. State, Hughes; treasury, Dawes; attorney general, Daugherty; war, Hert; navy, Weeks; interior, Hoover; postmaster general, Hays; agriculture, Wallace. This leaves two places, commerce and labor, for Mr. Harding to fill out of a hundred who would like to be in his official family.—[Utica Press.

Scotch Humor.

Doris—I thought you were [illegible] kiss me when you [illegible] just now. Jack—No—[illegible] only a piece of grit in my eye. Doris—Then, for goodness sake [illegible] low it—you need some!—[Edinburgh Scotsman.

JUNIOR PROJECT FIGURES.

Report of State Leaders Indicates 11,856 Boys and Girls Participating.

That the agricultural and home economics project work with boys and girls has become an important part of the extension activities of the state college of agriculture is shown by some figures given out at Ithaca by the state leader of junior extension.

During the fiscal year 11,856 boys and girls have been supplied with approximately 175,609 pieces of published matter, most of it written expressly for the junior club work. They have carried on their work under the direction of 17 county leaders and 649 local leaders, one of the most successful [illegible] being that in Otsego county. The local leaders were trained by subject-matter specialists from the college in 16 counties and 60 local leaders' training conferences.

Gained Dual Training.

Not only have these boys and girls received a training in the technique of agriculture and home-making, but they have also acquired specific business training, as shown by the fact that 7,597 boys and girls kept records of their projects and borrowed approximately $20,000 on legal notes from banks throughout the state. There were 4,500 junior exhibitors at the state fair and at 112 county and 265 community fairs and exhibits. Trips and tours for workers, costing $2,279, contributed proportionately to the education of the boys and girls participating.

The value of the production resulting from the projects carried on by all these boys and girls amounted to $186,378. This was produced at a cost of $124,749, leaving a value above cost of $61,629.

SUPERVISORS TO MEET.

Will Assemble at Cooperstown Wednesday for Organization.

The members of the Otsego county board of supervisors will meet at the court house in Cooperstown tomorrow for the purpose of organization. A chairman will be appointed and standing committees named for the ensuing year, and the necessary appointments of officers of the board will also be made. In addition, such business will be transacted as may properly come before the board.

Lecture at Laurens Tomorrow.

The second number of the citizens' lecture course will take place Wednesday evening in the Methodist church, when R. E. King will deliver his lecture of "The Royal Road to Fortune."

Extra Legs Needed.

The squirrel works hard to lay up and prepare for hard times and a cold winter, while many of us two legged animals don't do it or care a darn. Well, I give them a chance to have their supplies safely increase while they sleep, but they won't even let me do that. If we could put two more legs on them, like the squirrel and chipmunk, possibly they'd be better off. I'm now giving them another chance to get in with my bunch of little fellows that I have given a fair chance and a square deal and who have thus far me safely roll small amounts up to several million worth of supplies. If they won't see a hole in a ladder let's put two more legs on them. I'm the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. It

GRANGERS INSTALL AND DINE

Farmers' Organization Contributes $42 More for Starving Children — Very Interesting Meeting, Largely Attended.

The Oneonta grange, an organization in which good fellowship and the fraternal spirit run high, installed its officers for the year 1921 at a largely-attended meeting in Odd Fellows' temple last night. The meeting was followed by a sumptuous banquet that lasted until after midnight.

All the new officers, with the exception of three who were detained by illness, were present at the meeting, including Master Philip M. Jencks. The list of officers was published in The Star at the time of their election a month ago. Past Master W. H. Lynch was the installing officer, assisted by Mrs. E. L. Hall, and the ceremonies were carried out in a very impressive manner.

Following the installation, an opportunity was given all grangers who had not donated to the Child Feeding fund at the last meeting to do so at this meeting. A collection was taken and brought forth the tidy sum of $42, which will keep four little children of Europe alive during the winter months. Several of last night's contributors had given previously but were desirous of further aiding the worthy cause. At the previous meeting $76.50 was raised, so the grange total now stands at $118.50, which is indeed a very creditable showing. Last night's contribution was received at The Star office too late to be included in the official list publishde today, but it will be part of tomorrow's list.

After the business matters were disposed of, the 135 persons in attendance at the meeting sat down to a delicious banquet served a la Grange by a competent committee. The meal was an excellent one, according to those who "took part," and the inner man was very well satisfied. As the tables were cleared, Mrs. H. H. Colburn took the floor as toastmistress and very pleasingly introduced the after-dinner speakers, who were Mrs. W. H. Lynch, Mrs. C. H. Baker and Superintendent John E. Frederick. No set topics were given the speakers, but all of them referred to matters of interest to farmers and also paid their tributes to the grange as an organization. The addresses were heartily appreciated by the banqueters and it was with regret that the folks departed for home at an early hour this morning, after a thoroughly enjoyable evening together.

PAVING CONTRACT SETTLED.

Board of Public Works Closes up Work and Marks Time.

The final meeting of the board of public works for the fiscal year which ends Jan. 14, was held last evening and the chief and in fact the only business transacted, other than the audit of a few bills which had been contracted since the last meeting, was the making of a final settlement for the paving job on Elm and Maple streets and a section of Spruce street with the Sherman Contracting company. While the task was completed some time ago, there were some minor matters to be adjusted in the final settlement and an amicable decision was reached in relation to them.

The appointments by the mayor at the common council meeting this evening will determine the personnel of the board for the coming year and at the next meeting organization will be perfected no doubt and the consideration of plans for the coming year commenced.

It is expected that some repairs to the brick pavement will have to be made and doubtless this will be one of the first subjects considered. In fact, the city engineer has been investigating the subject and doubtless will have some ideas to present to the board.

"MY SOLDIER GIRL" JAN. 7.

Wonderful Scenic Effects in Popular Musical Spectacle.

When the musical spectacle "My Soldier Girl," is offered at Hathaway's Oneonta theatre, Friday night, Jan. 7th, theatregoers will readily appreciate why this new play was a hit from the opening night. The novel settings are dazzling in their bright hues and electrical effects, for nothing pretier has been carried out in the picture-land of the stage. The first act presents a night of gayety at Colonel Stone's home, Miami, Florida, presenting a fete in honor of "overseas" boys and girls. The entertainment is given by the guests and many novel numbers are presented owing to the fact that most of the visitors are artists in the profession. The second act finds Colonel Stone producing manager of a big Follies show on the roof of a New York theatre, many of the guests from Miami have important roles and the elaborately staged and costumed production is bewildering. The tuneful numbers are many and the wonderful cast and big "pony" ballet are seen in all their merrymaking. Seat sale Thursday, January 6th.

CHAMBER CAMPAIGN BEGINS

Active Work Rebuilding Organization Along Modern Lines Commenced—Manager Adie Confers With Board of Directors on Plans.

The first definite steps in the campaign to expand the Oneonta Chamber of Commerce were taken last night when the board of directors met at headquarters to formulate the general plan of work. Representatives of the American City bureau in the person of David C. Adie, who will have charge of the campaign, and Dewey J. Carter, publicity director, arrived in the city yesterday and already extra stenographers have been secured and actual work at headquarters commenced.

Mr. Adie addressed the board and outlined the general program to be followed in building up a civic-commercial organization here, commensurate with the size and industrial resources of the city. The same plan that has proved so successful in more than 250 other progressive American cities which the American City bureau has organized, will be followed here. This will involve three weeks of educational and publicity effort, followed by an intensive drive for memberships in the new organization. The campaign for memberships will be followed by a month of installation work, when another representative of the American City bureau will set up the machinery of the new organization, conduct the election of the new board of directors, the appointment of the working committees and the development of the program of work.

Mr. Adie expressed himself as very enthusiastic over the prospects for a successful campaign and congratulated the directors on their decision to build here a civic commercial organization that will make Oneonta not only bigger but a better place in which to live and work.

Within a few days announcement will be made of the appointment of the executive committee to head the campaign and of the special committees to take charge of the other details.

All Schools Reopen Today.

All schools in the city will reopen this morning, after the holiday vacation of two weeks. Incoming trains of yesterday afternoon and last night were filled to overflowing with Normal students returning to their studies and the School on the Hill, which has looked awfully lonesome for the past few days, will take on its old-time aspect of activity and vim. Christmas marks the half-way point, according to most students, and it will now be but a comparatively short time until mother and daughter will be talking about the graduation dress.

The Oneonta High school and the ward schools also will be open this morning. Principal Van Deusen announces that the night school, which also observed the holiday respite, will resume its regular sessions this evening.

Mrs. Coates Suffers Fractured Hip.

Dr. McClellan of this city was called in consultation with Dr. Phillips of Hartwick yesterday relative to the condition of Mrs. Jennie N. Coates, of Dietz street, who fell on the icy sidewalk last week and fractured her right hip. Although the accident is a serious one, the physicians state Mrs. Coates is doing well and stands a good chance of recovery, although it will take several weeks' time.

TO TELL LUSITANIA STORY.

Risea Williams, Survivor of That Tragedy, to Address Men's Club.

Among the survivors of the Lusitania disaster is Risea Williams, the noted Welch baritone, and members of the Men's club of the First Methodist church and their friends will be interested in the announcement that he has been secured for the next dinner of that club to be served in the church parlors on Friday evening, Jan. 17. Mr. Williams will not only tell the story of that terrible tragedy and of his experiences, but will also favor the men present at the dinner with songs during the evening.

The coming of Mr. Williams is very gratifying to the members of the committee in charge and they consider that they have been fortunate in securing him. Tickets will at an early date be on sale at the Wilber National bank, offices of Fred N. VanWie and H. M. Bard & Son and at the Hurd Boot shop. It is expected that the capacity of the dining room will be sold out for this dinner.

NOT TO NEGLECT CHILDREN

Is as Important to Give Thought to Better Boys and Girls as to Better Livestock.

While money is being spent for better crops and to improve livestock, some should also be spent for a better crop of children in rural communities, according to the report of a rural community conference which has just been issued by the state college here.

Boys and girls in rural communities, no less than in the cities, the report points out, have a right to suitable education, clean bodies, an opportunity to play, and a consciousness of their spiritual relationships.

Country school teachers, rural ministers, and, most of all, the men and women of the community are charged in the report with the duty of giving country children a fair chance.

What City Has Done.

It is pointed out in the report that in the city "much attention is paid to playgrounds and parks. Man is trying to put artificially into the city what nature has furnished in the country.

"There is the religious side of the child's life. Man cannot get along without religion, and it must come into his life in childhood. What is the church doing for the children? The exterior of the church building is just as bad as many of the schoolhouses. Little that is definite has been done to make religion attractive to the growing boys and girls.

"There was a time when the rural community dominated. It is now coming back to its own as an economic factor in this country; it has a positive and important place. An attempt must be made in the rural community to develop the social life; and the most important social problem is the rearing of boys and girls of a better type."

A copy of the report will be sent to any who make request for E 39 of the state college of agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y.

RAILWAY CLERKS ELECT.

Interesting Addresses Given at Open Meeting of Brotherhood Last Night.

An open meeting of the local Brotherhood of Railway Clerks was held last night in Trainmen's hall, and a large number of D. & H. clerks, both in and out of the union, were in attendance. Addresses were given by Arthur Cobb, A. M. McKinney and Ernest Hayhoe of this city and E. G. Griggs of Scranton, general chairman of the B. R. C. All the speakers naturally took for their topic the importance of united effort toward the accomplishment of any set object and elaborated on the uses and undesirable misuses of a union. Mr. Griggs thought that the B. R. C. was a great thing for the clerks and would accomplish much good if handled by good managers. The talks were listened to with keen interest by the clerks and proved very profitable.

The following officers of the B. R. C. have been elected for 1921 and will be installed at the next meeting, to be held on January 17:

President — Jerry Duddy.
Vice President — Merritt Fisher.
Recording Secretary — Arthur Kenyon.
Financial Secretary an Treasurer—Victor Merchant.
Chaplain — Elmer Kniskern.
Sergeant at Arms — Charles Emberson.
Inner Guard — Ralph Wheeler.
Outer Guard—Francis Williams.
Local Chairman — Herbert Schoonmaker.

Musterole Loosens Up Those Stiff Joints—Drives Out Pain

You'll know why thousands use Musterole once you experience the glad relief it gives.

Get a jar at once from the nearest drug store. It is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Brings ease and comfort while it is being rubbed on!

Musterole is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Millions of jars are used annually for bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

STILL SAVING CHILDREN

Fund Augmented by C. J. Armstrong and Sons of Milford and Their Employes, by Centennial Lodge and Sand Hill School District.

Each day brings cheering features of the campaign to secure funds for the relief of the suffering children of Europe and yesterday was no exception. Gratifying indeed was the action of C. J. Armstrong & Sons of Milford, who, in addition to the firm's contribution of $25, sent along a contribution, presumably from each employe of $1, making a total in the one remittance of $52. It is an example that other business concerns could well follow and one we doubt not the employes would be willing to unite in and send along equally generous gifts. It takes but ten gifts of a dollar each to save the life or one of these innocent starving children.

Centennial lodge, I. O. O. F., of this city certainly added a generous donation to the fund, sending $50, which helps swell the total of yesterday. Then, too, the children of the Sand Hill school district in the town of Unadilla, by their teacher, Miss Gladys M. Ray, send $4, which is certainly evidence that the children there are thoughtful of the hungry ones across the sea.

Yesterday the contributions of the previous week including, in fact, seven days. Christmas day's offerings being held until yesterday, were forwarded to Franklin K. Lane, treasurer. They aggregated $2,696.36, the largest amount yet received in the same length of time.

THE APPEAL IS URGENT

Just after passing through what is invariably the happiest season of the year, when we leave nothing undone to make others happy, let us stop long enought to think of the needy people across the water who are not as well off as we are, and permit our better selves to take possession of us—to make our thoughts words and our words action, and our actions take on a financial garb. Now as never before, the appeal is urgent that we come to the relief of the starving children across the sea. May we give our money to make them well and happy!

"OLD NEW HAMPSHIRE HOME"

1000 EGGS IN EVERY HEN

New System of Poultry Keeping — Get Dollar A Dozen Eggs — Famous Poultryman TELLS HOW

"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of a hen was too short," says Henry Trafford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly eighteen years editor of Poultry Success.

The average pullet lays 150 eggs. If kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then she goes to market. Yet, it has been scientifically established that every pullet is born or hatched with over one thousand minute egg germs in her system—and will lay them on a highly profitable basis over a period of four to six years' time if given proper care.

How to work to get 1,000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; make slacker hens hustle; $3.00 profit from every hen in six winter months. These and many other money making poultry secrets are contained in Mr. Trafford's "1,000 EGG HEN" system of poultry raising, one copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this paper who keeps six hens or more. Eggs should go to a dollar or more a dozen this winter. This means big profit to the poultry keeper who sets the eggs. Mr. Trafford tells how. If you keep chickens and want them to make money for you, cut out this ad and send it with your name to Henry Trafford, Suite 928-S, Tyne building, Binghamton, N. Y., and a free copy of "THE 1,000 EGG HEN" will be sent by return mail.

DO YOU CATCH COLD EASILY?

Your Vitality Is Low—Resistance Weak

YOU NEED PEPTO-MANGAN

Rich, Red Blood Will Strengthen You and Put You on Your Feet —Able to Resist Colds

Your system normally healthy should never catch cold. Your body is adjusted to take care of sudden changes in the weather.

It is when you are run down and your vitality is low that your body cannot adjust itself. Then you take cold.

If you keep your blood in good condition, with plenty of red corpuscles, you will be strong and your body will easily adjusts itself to sudden changes. You will throw off the cold germs that go flying into the air when someone with a cold sneezes.

Red-blooded men, women and children eat well. They have plenty of energy. They go along with a smile because they feel right.

Try Pepto-Mangan, the successful tonic. It is a wonderful blood builder. Take it for awhile till you feel right.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. It is prepared in both liquid and tablet form. The medicinal properties are the same.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan — "Gude's." Ask for it by name, and be sure the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package.

POSED AS MAN 19 YEARS

Girl Refused to Promise to Adopt Feminine Attire.

That she has never worn feminine attire, powdered her nose or rouged her lips since she was fifteen years old, was the startling statement made in court by Eleanor Howard, thirty-four years old, of New York city, arrested on a charge of masquerading in male attire.

When arrested Miss Howard steadfastly refused to promise to adopt female attire. She told the court that it was much easier for her to make her way in the world as a man.

Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
When she finds freedom.

Many readers will profit by the following:

Doan's cured me of the trouble and I gladly recommend them."

FALLS FROM LOAD OF HAY.

Herbert Davis of Davenport Has Face Badly Bruised Last Night.

Davenport, Jan. 3. — Herbert Davis, who works the VonNeer farm about a quarter of a mile above this village, suffered painful bruises about the face this evening when he fell from the top of a load of hay on which he was riding. Mr. Davis was drawing the hay from near Fergusonville to the VonNeer farm, when he struck a particularly bad piece of road. The lurching of the wagon caught him unprepared and he fell off the hay to the hard ground several feet below. When picked up he was unconscious, and Dr. Craig of this village was summoned to attend him. After an examination the physician found that no bones were broken, but the bruises and cuts are causing Davis considerable pain. He will probably be laid up for several days while the hurts are healing.

Leaving for Vermont.

S. A. TenEyck of Davenport, who until recently was foreman of the Sheffield creamery here, has accepted a position with the same company as superintendent of the by-products and sugar plant at Vergennes, Vt., and expects to leave in a week or so to take up his new duties. Mr. TenEyck is one of Davenport's most capable and respected young men and will have the best wishes of many friends for abundant success.

WITH THE WANDERERS.

Kniskern and Westcott Take Places of "Jim" and "Kex."

The Wanderers, Oneonta's fast basketball squad, have lost two of their most valuable players, but nevertheless are still on the job and are out to do their darndest, basketbally speaking.

"Jim" Perry, star of last season's games and who did much to defeat the state league Marvels of Binghamton, has gone to Albany, where he now is taking a course at the Albany Business college. Claude Gregory expects to leave this week for Florida to spend the winter with his brother, Frank Gregory, who went south a few weeks ago. The two brothers will have employment near Miami and are looking forward to a very enjoyable winter in the Sunny South.

Kniskern and Westcott, both "Exs," will take the places of Perry and Gregory on the Wanderers' lineup during the remainder of the season, thus assuring the reputation of Manager Crounse's squad being kept up to par. Both of these men have long been on the basketball court and have made good showings. Dewey Thomas is now captain of the Wanderers, who will play their next game later in the present month.

Deep Mystery in Tin.

There are records of the use of tin by the ancients, but it is rare that any implements of this metal are found by archeologists. This is said to be due to the circumstance that a sort of decay attacks it, producing a change in its crystalline structure, the nature of which does not seem to be clearly understood. This ends in reducing the tin to a fine gray powder. The process proceeds much more rapidly at certain times than it does at others and seems to be transmitted from one piece of tin to another.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BLAMES POLICEMAN FOR SLAYING SON

Father Declares Blow From Officer's Club Fractured Skull of Young Novelty Importer

New York, Jan. 3. — Carl Bosselman, 24, novelty importer and exporter, who was found unconscious on a sidewalk here early Sunday and died later in a hospital, was killed "when struck by a policeman," his father declared tonight.

Police reported the young man evidently had fractured his skull in a fall.

Bosselman, a graduate of the naval academy at Annapolis, left the naval service after the war and took charge of the Washington office of his father's export and import business.

With Thomas J. McManus, a friend, Bosselman is said to have attended a party New Year's night and that at an early hour in the morning they started walking in Park avenue. They were talking loudly, McManus said, when a policeman halted them. Bosselman, he added, took off his coat as if to fight the policeman.

McManus asserted the policeman chased them and in flight he lost his friend. As a result of the father's charges, a police inquiry was ordered.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

That Dependable Ford Quality

Ford durability began back in 1903 when Henry Ford started experimenting with Vanadium steel and heat-treating processes. He knew that a more exact tempering of steel for motor car building must be worked out. Vanadium, it was learned, when added to molten steel, gives to that steel a greater toughness and adhesiveness. And now other alloys have been found which are superior to Vanadium. With the Ford Motor Company constant progress is the daily companion. The Ford products—Car, Truck, Tractor—grow in quality daily. Heat-treating tempers each part so that it will best withstand the wear or tear to which it is subjected. Ford chemists and analysts have created formulas and standard specifications for every individual part of the Ford car—not only for the steel, but for everything from pneumatic tires to top.

Ford durability isn't a matter of accident, it is a matter of painstaking thoroughness in laboratory and factory. The Ford is a car of precision—of standardized values. Order your Ford car now. No matter how fast they may be made, the demand multiplies faster. Order today, for we can make fairly prompt deliveries—Runabout, Touring Car, Coupe, Sedan, Truck and Fordson Tractor.

LICENSE PLATES MADE IN PRISON

Plant for Manufacture of 1921 Supply Has Recently Been Established at Auburn Prison

Albany, Jan. 3.—That the plant established recently at Auburn prison for the manufacture of automobile plates will be able to supply the plates for 1921 is the opinion expressed by Commissioners Mial H. Pierce of Gouverneur and Charles S. Rogers of Hudson in a report to the state commission of prisons. Statements having been made to the effect that the prison plant would be unable to make the hundreds of thousands of plates required in time for use during the coming year, the committee was appointed to investigate the situation.

The committee report states that day and night shifts of men are being worked at the prison and in spite of the difficulties and annoyances encountered in establishing the new industry, the output is steadily increasing.

"The prison authorities seem to feel confident that they will be able to comply with all the demands made by the office of secretary of state," says the report. "We were told that a representative of that office informed the prison authorities that more plates had been delivered up to date than had ever been delivered in previous years during a corresponding period, with the exception of last year, when there were two contractors."

There was initial delay of several months in establishing the plant; the machinery was late in arriving, and it was not until July 2 that it was possible to begin operations. Delay also was experienced in getting materials from time to time and inexperienced help had to be instructed in the work.

DECEMBER PRICE CUTS INCREASED

Range of Commodities Affected by Reductions Is Limited to Those Showing Previous Declines

Washington, Jan. 3. — Further decline in prices, coupled with increased unemployment accompanied the country's continued progress in business readjustment, according to the monthly review of general business and financial conditions during December issued today by the Federal Reserve board.

The price decline during the month was placed at 8½ per cent by the board, which added the observation that the decrease in prices was mainly confined to commodities which had shown a decline previously rather than an extension of price cutting to other industries.

The decline was reported as most marked in agricultural products, textiles, hides, leathers and iron and steel products, while coal, petroleum, gasoline, paper, brick and cement remained largely unaffected. Some reductions were reported in the open market in the latter group of commodities, the board said, but contract prices appeared to be at the same level as in earlier months.

Ever Get Bilious? Try This

Take NR at once. Get digestive and eliminative organs working in harmony and relief is immediate. Never causes griping.

NR Tonight—Tomorrow Feel Right

When your liver goes on strike and you feel a sick headache and bilious spell coming on, instead of prodding your liver with dangerous calomel and hashing your bowels with strong, irritating purgatives, get one roun box of mild, gentle-acting NR Tablets and take one right off.

Relief will come just as quickly and with it genuine, lasting benefit. There will be no griping, gnawing pains or doubling stomach ache. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) work promptly and thoroughly, but the action is gentle, mild and soothing.

Relief comes through the action of Nature's Remedy on not only the liver, but on the whole digestive and eliminative system,—the stomach, the bowels and even on the kidneys. Stored up accumulations of waste and body poisons that have been clogging the system are completely cleared out, the over-worked stomach is strengthened and the interrupted work of digestion and assimilation is resumed. The inactive liver goes to work with new vigor, the bowels are unburdened, the headache leaves, that dull, "dopey," want-to-crawl-down-a-hole feeling disappears, energy, "pep" and appetite return and you find yourself entirely, completely relieved.

There is no better proof of the great value of Nature's Remedy for biliousness and constipation than the fact that more than one million NR Tablets are used every day,—more than five million boxes sold every year.

If you've not already done so, get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take the first tablet tonight. If your constipation is stubborn or persistent, continue to take one each night for a week or so. Then note how you feel. Your bowels will be as regular as clock work, and you'll find yourself in better shape physically, mentally, every way than you've been in many a day. After that you need not take medicine every day. An occasional NR Tablet to keep your system in good condition will be sufficient, and you can always feel your best. Remember it is easier and cheaper to keep well than to get well. Just try it.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.
